Post Office Robbed At Tory Hill

Last Thursday afternoon the post office at Tory Hill was robbed to the extent of $278. It would appear that shortly after noon a party of three men stopped off at the service station and post office owned and operated by R. H. Anderson and purchased three bottles of soft drinks.

While drinking the pop they suddenly decided they needed gasoline and apparently when the proprietor went out to the gas pumps one kept watch at the window and one of the trio rifled the till. Only cash was taken, the money orders and stamps being untouched.

It was nearly an hour after the robbery occurred that local police were contacted and though they rushed to the scene as soon as possible apparently the only clue they had to work on was the trio were driving a dark green Oldsmobile.

Road blocks were set up at Bancroft and other possible escape routes, but at time of writing the culprits are, it would seem, home free.

We have been informed by O.P.P. constable Mountstevens that this same racket has been worked time and again by what is believed to be the same gang using the same car with different license plates.

Owing to the smooth manner in which this trio operates, it is often some time before the victim realizes he has been fleeced and hence the birds have flown long before the police can be notified and reach the scene of the robbery.

ACCLAIMED MOTION PICTURE COMES TO HALIBURTON

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

The cottagers on Boyce's Bay, Drag Lake, find themselves in a rather unpleasant situation and as such many cottagers are of the opinion that it should be brought to the attention of your good readers and council before next Monday's council meeting, July 11.

If this unpleasant situation is not rectified forthwith it may be assumed that the real losers will be the business people of Haliburton as well as the cottagers, due primarily to the bad publicity regarding the roads leading into and servicing what is commonly referred to as Cowling's sub-division.

Moreover it is our understanding that Mr. Frank Cowling has submitted a further application seeking approval or consent on a new subdivision on Boyce's Bay. It is submitted that no approval should be granted until Mr. Frank Cowling fulfills his commitments and obligations with respect to the roads leading into and servicing sub-divisions 391 and 335. To grant approval would make a mockery of the Planning Act of Ontario.

In support of this I quote from a letter dated May 26, 1960, from Mr. Cowling:

"The road will be given a graveling this early summer and by the time the flies let up all will be well. You can count on the road being in shape in late May or early June."

I am still counting on the roads being in shape and about the only thing I have counted is one (maybe one and a half) loads of gravel being put on the road servicing the property my lot forms a part of. Additional gravel has been placed on the road servicing my lot and the other side of the bay.

In any event all is not well insofar as the roads are concerned. I am of the opinion that they form a real hazard. Many cottages have lost mufflers, etc., due to the condition of the road.

On July 17, 1960 at 2 p.m. at the public beach, Boyce's Bay, a committee hopes to meet with the reeve. Perhaps the situation can be resolved. Let us hope so lest the publicity gains momentum and results become far reaching and all summer developments could suffer therefrom.

The cottagers submit that the roads servicing subdivision 391 and 335 be brought up to municipal standards forthwith and in addition no approval be given to subdivide further property as this would only compound the

Fly Past Of Sabre Jets To Highlight Carnival

On Wednesday night, July 20, the Haliburton branch of the Canadian Legion will present this year's edition of the annual Legion carnival at Haliburton.

The Legion are proud to announce that they have an outstanding attraction waiting for those who will be attending this year's event. Between 7 and 7.30 p.m., weather permitting, there will be a fly past and demonstration of Sabre jets put on by the Royal Canadian Air Force. This will be one of the greatest attractions this county has seen for many a year and you won't want to miss this great air spectacle.

At 7 p.m. the parade, led by the Haliburton Legion Band will leave the Legion hall with veterans from many branches taking part.

Following the parade and air show the activities will begin at the Haliburton arena where there will be fun and entertainment for everyone. And for the kiddies there will be the ever popular merry go round and ferris wheel. Two stage shows are on tap at 9 and 10.30 p.m. featuring local talent. Weeks of preparation have gone into this stage show and Haliburton's finest talent will be on display.

And to top the evening off the big draw for the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air hardtop.

Come early and bring the family. You won't want to miss one of the exciting features of this year's Legion carnival.

WHAT MINDEN COUNCIL DID

The regular meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden council was held in the council chamber on Wednesday, July 6 with members present.

Permission was granted Murray Crawford to cut the trees on the road allowance in front of his property and to widen the road.

A letter was read from a group of ratepayers on concession VI Minden Township (Lake Kashagawigamog) asking that work be done on the road leading to the lake. The road overseer was asked to look at the road.

Bill Duncan is to be paid $15 for a lamb killed by dogs. Ross Warburton is to be paid $15 each for two lambs killed by dogs as recommended by the sheep valuator.

The clerk was asked to write Messrs. Brown and Patterson asking them to fulfill their commitments re the road in the plan of subdivision No. 357 (Bob Lake). Also that the deed for the one foot reserve on the edge of the subdivision be forwarded to the municipality as per agreement.

Council granted $50 to the Dominion day celebration problem.

Thank you Mr. Editor for your time and space in the paper and perhaps the interest and concern the council may derive from perusing this article.

Yours respectfully,
Howard Toaze,
Boyce's Bay Cottagers' Association.

CONTRACTOR STARTS WORK ON HIGH SCHOOL

The Colt Construction Co. of Scarboro, Ont., have started construction on the new four room addition to the Haliburton County District High School.

We are informed the contractors have agreed to use as much local labor as possible.

Prentice Roads and Excavating Ltd. of Minden are presently doing the excavation work.

It is hoped the new addition will be ready sometime in September.

committee to cover the deficit in connection with the athletic events for Saturday, July 2.

Two "no U turn" street signs are to be purchased. One is to be placed at the bank corner and the other placed at the post office corner as recommended by the local O.P.P. detachment.

The next council meeting will be held on Wednesday, August 10 unless called sooner by reeve F. H. Brooks.

WHAT DYSART COUNCIL DID

The following are the minutes of the Dysart municipal council meeting held in the council chambers on Monday, July 11, 1960 at 9 a.m. with all members present.

It was moved that the minutes of meetings held on June 13, 17, 28 and July 2 be adopted as read.

Two Youths Charged With Car Theft

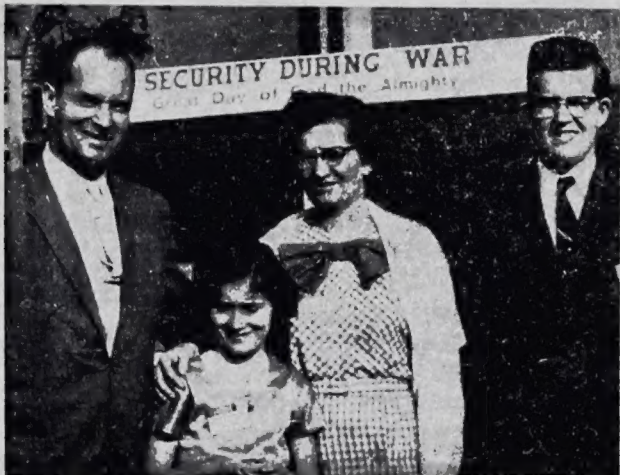

On Tuesday afternoon at 4.30 p.m. the O.P.P. detachment from Haliburton were called out on a report that a car was running up and down in front of Wig-a-Mog Inn at a high rate of speed. Paying little or no attention to the tourists on the road the would-be hell drivers kept up their torrid pace.

When the local O.P.P. officers arrived in their cruiser the chase was on and the two youths ditched their car and made for the bush.

After a two hour search they were driven from the bush onto the highway where they were picked up.

The two men arrested were David Sayers, no fixed address and Patrick Cain, R.R. 1, Stouffville. They are charged with car theft. Both are 17 years of age.

They were immediately taken to the jail in Minden and then transported by Beaverton's police chief to face trial in Beaverton.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD BOLENDER with their daughter Marlene, 10, and son Barry, 17, attended largest convention of Jehovah's Witnesses ever held in Canada last week in Toronto Exhibition Park. Much of the program dealt with practical ways of applying Bible principles to maintain unity in the family circle.

HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER . . .

In last weeks issue of the Echo we stated that a signal light was to be installed at the intersection of Highland and Maple streets. Apparently a good many gained the impression that we meant a traffic light. Well this is not the case. The light to be installed there is what is known as a police call light. These lights are worked from the local telephone exchange, that is when a call comes in requiring the services of the O.P.P. and they are not at the office the signal will be flashed to this light which will blink on and off, signaling our enforcement officers that their services are required.

The application of Charles Tyler as a candidate for the Ministry of the United Church of Canada has been accepted and we understand that he will commence his studies this fall.

Weather permitting, a fly past and air demonstration of Sabre jets will take place over our fair village on Wednesday evening next, which is the occasion of the annual Legion carnival. Don't miss this great air spectacle.

A car was stolen from the parking lot at Deer Lodge on Saturday night. Maybe we should say someone borrowed it without asking. The vehicle which was owned by a Toronto man was discovered a short time later not far from where it was taken, but according to the speedometer reading it had been driven about 40 miles.

The O.P.P. officers in Minden and Haliburton report another accident free week as far as motor traffic is concerned. It was reported in Haliburton on Saturday that a drowning had taken place at Bonnie View Inn, however we understand that a young girl had a narrow escape but our splendid record in Haliburton as far as drownings are concerned, is still intact.

This is the initial presentation of this award which was presented to Harold by president Frank Litt. His name will be the first one placed on the Fred Jones memorial plaque. Congratulations Harold.

WEST GUILFORD

Mrs. Emily Bain is recuperating in the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay following two operations which became necessary when she slipped and fell Thursday evening, June 30, breaking her hip. She was taken by ambulance to the Minden hospital where x-rays revealed the necessity of an operation and she was taken at once to Lindsay for surgery.

Mrs. Jack Haney has returned to her home in St. Catharines after spending three weeks with Mrs. Mabel Helms and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Sisson, Earl Sisson and Blaine Sisson are enroute to the Calgary stampede.

Mr. and Mrs. Collin Rendall of Toronto who have a cottage on Otter Lake were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henderson recently.

Friends of Mrs. Cecil Stamp will be pleased to learn that she arrived at her home on Sunday following a serious operation and four weeks in St. Michael's hospital in Toronto.

Three year old Douglas Welch, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Welch of West Guilford gave his parents and relatives a bad three quarters of an hour on Saturday evening, July 9. His mother, who is a member of St. Andrew's W.A., was busy helping the other members serve the food at the W.A.'s annual strawberry festival supper held in the basement of the Anglican church when his eight year old sister, Nancy, reported to their father that Douglas was missing. A frantic search ensued over the whole area near his home, especially the banks of the river near by, where it was feared he might have wandered. Douglas was finally located, happily playing all by himself and safe and sound, in the empty church above where the supper was in progress.

J-W's CLAIM SOLUTION TO JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

"A complete end to juvenile delinquency is in sight!" So declared Mr. Harold Bolender on return from the four-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses held at Exhibition Park in Toronto last week.

"In a world beset by the problem of increasing juvenile delinquency," Mr. Bolender explained, "Jehovah's Witnesses say they have found a solution in systematic Bible teaching. This is not merely a noble-sounding statement of theory—it is an established fact, proven in practice.

Testifying to this were the large crowds of happy, active teenagers present at our convention enjoying wholesome spiritual instruction and Christian fellowship.

These youngsters are not conformists to the inane fads and deteriorating moral standards of this world, but are active preachers of the Bible with a determination to avoid contamination with ungodly elements and stand by righteous principles. Ever increasing numbers of them are making missionary service their vocation," he said.

"As the father of two growing children," Mr. Bolender continued, "I was greatly impressed by the practical Bible instruction given from the platform for both parents and children.

"The problems and temptations threatening the unity of the family circle today were squarely faced and the application of Bible principles was proven time and again to be the only effective answer."

Barry Bolender, age 17, and his sister Marlene, age 10, accompanied their parents and thoroughly enjoyed the assembly. Barry served as a volunteer worker in the attendant department.

Final day of the assembly saw an attendance of over 26,000 as Mr. F. W. Franz, vice president of the Watch Tower Society, delivered the widely advertised public Bible lecture, "Security During War of the Great Day of God the Almighty."

MINDEN

The sale of home baked goods held on Saturday and sponsored by the ladies of the Minden Agricultural Society and the ladies of the Minden curling club was indeed a great success.

At time of writing $96.43 is the grand total and donations are still coming in from those who, for some reason or other, were unable to contribute baking for the sale.

The proceeds will be used towards the erection of the new fair exhibit building and curling rink planned to be erected this fall on the fair grounds.

We are pleased to report that the following girls have succeeded in obtaining honors at the conservatory of music in Lindsay: Connie Stevens, Phyllis Loucks, Susan Harrison, Barbara Brown and Patsy Deacon.

Mr. and Mrs. Grenville Dawkins and family of Toronto and Mrs. Lorne McCallum and family of Lindsay called on Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harrison and Mrs. Bill Moore and family.

The hospital report for June is, admissions 23, outpatients 49, x-rays 49, minor operations 19, and a total of 176 hospital days.

Patients at the hospital were Mr. Harris, Miss Dooe, Mrs. Ives, Mrs. Ransberry. Congratulations to all these mothers, Mrs. A. Keres, a girl, Lori Ann; Mrs. Don Hicks, a girl, Debora Kathleen; Mrs. Walter Austin, a baby girl; Mrs. Wendell Sedgwick, a girl, Katherine Elizabeth, and Mrs. Arnold Walker, a baby boy.

The Garnet Glover family are now living in the home owned by Mrs. Crocker.

Mrs. Bob Peel and girls of Calgary are visiting her parents for a while, Mr. and Mrs. Len Hamilton.

Other people in the village who are in hospital are Mrs. Robina McKay in Toronto and Mrs. James Trumbull in Peterboro.

Ricky Harding was on the sick list and spent last week in bed.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hie on the birth of their boy Keith, another grandson for Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hie.

OLD BOYS' FOUNDATION

REVISE CONDITIONS

At a recent meeting of the executive of the Haliburton County Old Boys' Educational Foundation, it was decided to make more money available for student loans through the foundation.

The executive felt, that in spite of the increased number of scholarships which are available to students through the high school and the provisions of the Ontario student aid loan fund, that the need still exists for such a fund as the old boys' educational foundation, which can be administered at the local level.

At the present time nearly $2,000 is on loan to students who have proceeded to further education. To some of these students, no other source of funds was available and they would have been unable to carry on without the assistance of the old boys' education fund. In order that the fund may continue to serve the needs of such students, more funds are urgently required for student loans. Any contribution would be welcomed from citizens, municipalities or organizations within the county.

These funds are used over and over again, since they are repaid to the fund, once the student has graduated.

A grant has been made by the county council to assist in the continuation of the fund. Individuals who contribute will receive receipts which may be used for income tax purposes. Donations are to be sent to Mrs. Anna English, secretary treasurer, Haliburton, Ont.

The following is an outline of the revised regulations:

1. The object of this foundation is to provide a source of available funds for the secondary school graduates of the Provisional County of Haliburton who wish to continue their education.

2. Application for the original loan must be made on or before August 1 of the year following completion of the applicant's secondary school course.

3. A student may borrow up to a maximum of $800 in the first year and up to $600 in each of the following years, or a maximum of $2,600 for his entire course.

Applications are to be sent to the principal of the applicant's secondary school or to the secretary of the foundation. The first application must be accompanied by two character references.

5. Applications will be brought before the foundation board not later than August 31. Each original application is to be accompanied by the secondary school principal's confidential report which is to be submitted on a form provided by the foundation board for that purpose.

6. The board's decision regarding the application will be made when final examination results are available, but in any event not later than September 10. The board's decision will be final.

7. Interest of 1% per annum will be charged while the borrower is completing his course. This rate will be raised to 2% per annum as soon as the borrower completes or discontinues his course, and is repaying the debt according to the following schedule: First year after discontinuance of course at least $300; second year after discontinuance of course at least $300; third year at least $500; fourth, fifth and sixth year at least $500 each year.

Any loan of less than $200 is to be paid in full within a year after discontinuance of the course.

Interest at the rate of 5% per annum will be added to any debt not paid in accordance with the preceding schedule.

8. The applicant and his parent or guardian, or some other responsible party satisfactory to the board must give the foundation board notes to cover all loans made to him.

9. Each loan must be covered by insurance payable to the foundation. The cost of such insurance may be added to the amount borrowed, and the foundation is to be the beneficiary of the policy until the loan is repaid in full. Insurance on the borrower's life which is already in force when a loan is obtained may be assigned to the foundation board for the purpose stated above.

An enjoyable afternoon was spent at Furnace Falls when the United church held their Sunday school picnic on Saturday, June 25. A carload of people motored to Lindsay to enjoy a couple of films of Pastor A. A. Allan which were shown in the I.O.O.F. hall by Mr. Delbert Wait.

On Sunday evening two films of Oral Roberts were shown in the Pentecostal church by Mr. Boyd of Markham. Mrs. Boyd delivered a message on Sunday morning. Several musical numbers were rendered accompanied by the guitar played by Mr. Clayton Glenn of Arnprior.

The closing meeting for the year of the Hi-C club was held at Harcourt and ended in a banquet. During the social event Mr. Dawson was presented with a Bible with his name embossed in gold letters. Mrs. Dawson received a beautiful crocheted book mark. They were in appreciation of their faithful work done during the winter months.

Rails are being lifted from the old I.B.&O. railway. An old land mark, a bridge, has already disappeared.

A joint meeting of the W.A.'s of this district met on Wednesday evening, June 22 in the United church. There was an attendance of 45. Mr. C. Dawson was in charge. Hymns for the occasion were chosen. Prayers were offered. Mrs. J. E. Pickens, president, welcomed the ladies as well as introducing the guest speaker, Mrs. Norman Dack, president of the Lindsay presbytery, who gave an inspiring address on the topic, "What the W.A. Can Do." Mrs. Len Milburn rendered two solos with Mrs. G. W. Barr, pianist. There were "If I Have Wounded Any Heart" and "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer." Mrs. Davenport and Mrs. Finlay sang two solos with Mrs. Brooking accompanying. There were "How Great Thou Art," and "Lord Take My Hand and Lead Me Home."

Readings were given by Mrs. Roley, Mrs. G. W. Barr and Mrs. Dawson. Mrs. Pickens read the "Parable of the Talents." The sermon and the gift of Mrs. Dack's address centred around talents. The meeting closed with "Onward Christian Soldiers" and the benediction. The guests were served a delicious lunch of strawberry short cake, whipped cream and tea. Mrs. Roberts gave a courtesy reply. Mrs. Hubert Alsop and Mrs. Clifford Stoughton took up the offering which was a very satisfactory amount.

The July meeting of the W.A. of the United church was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. C. Walker with an attendance of 11. Hymns were sung. Mrs. Dawson led in prayer. The scripture, Eph. 5:1-14 was read by Mrs. K. Mather. Mrs. J. E. Pickens read "President Truman's Birthday Wish." The topic "Children of Light" was read by Mrs. Dawson. Mrs. G. W. Barr continued the story of Albert Sweitzer. One of the highlights of the meeting was when Mrs. Pickens presented Mrs. Walker with a beautiful yellow table centre rose and a card signed by the ladies. "Happy Birthday" was sung and Mrs. Walker replied.

The meeting closed with prayer. Lunch was served. Mrs. Isabel Wait and daughter are traveling west for a vacation. Mrs. Orval Hartin is visiting at Highland Grove. Mrs. J. E. Hunter is spending the week with relatives in Peterboro.

MISSING PAGES

In the Iroquois federation, composed of the Six Nations, Mohawks, Oneidas, Onondagas, Cayugas, Senecas and Tuscaroras, Indian development reached its peak. It is fascinating to conjecture what their future might have been had not the white man interrupted their evolution. Their chiefs successfully played French against English to the advantage of the Iroquois for hundreds of years.

It is truly said of them that they never forgot a favor or a wrong; strong in loyalty and swift to vengeance their courage was a byword on the frontier. When the Europeans arrived they controlled most of the northern states east of the Mississippi. If their tribes were decimated by war, they were brought to full strength by the adoption of prisoners. Torturing prisoners stemmed from the belief that if a man proved himself brave during the ordeal, the warriors who ate a portion of his heart assumed his virtues.

In July of 1615, accompanied by 16 soldiers and following the trails blazed by Etienne Brule, who lived with the Indians from boyhood, Samuel de Champlain, soldier and gentleman of France, came to Huronia. Considering its high population and strategic position in relation to trade, he determined to make its Hurons and Wyandots his friends.

Could Champlain have read the far reaching effect his simple actions would have on the history of New France, it is highly doubtful if he would have agreed so readily to the Huron invitation to take the war trail against the Iroquois. In so doing he inadvertently set the time bomb of Iroquois wrath which ticked away for 34 years. It exploded in a holocaust which laid waste the pleasant land of Huronia as the children of Israel obliterated the inhabitants of the land of Canaan.

On the surface Champlain's mission seemed successful. Trade was arranged with the Hurons and Algonquins who also welcomed the Catholic missionaries with open arms helping them to build Fort Ste. Marie, Ste. Louis, Ste. Ignace and Ste. Joseph.

In 1637 a smallpox epidemic reduced the Huron population drastically and about this time more frequent Iroquois raids up the Trent further disturbed the situation.

Already the Iroquois looked with covetous eyes upon the rich trapping grounds north of the Great Lakes. Their own grounds, already over trapped to supply the increasing demands of the English, were threatened by encroaching white settlements.

Choicest among the desired territories were the teeming lakes of Haliburton and the Algonquin Park. From them came, according to the records of the old French trading post at Toronto, the best fur catches of all.

In 1648, like wolves trailing prey, the relentless Iroquois braves, horrible in their black and red war paint ascended the Trent waters, stopping long enough at Ste. Joseph's mission near Orillia to massacre Father Daniel and 700 Hurons who lived in the village. They planned to spend the winter in the Haliburton-Algonquin Park forests which were so rich in game they could support an influx of several thousand hungry warriors.

What happened to the hapless Algonquins or Hurons who happened to be living in the lands the Iroquois coveted?

Picture in the glow of an Indian summer evening a happy domestic scene. The children are playing with their dog on the beach while father repairs the family bark canoe nearby. Mother has just finished preparing the meal over a bed of glowing coals when the dog pauses, the careless romp forgotten. He growls low in his throat and the father seizes his weapons and stands ready to defend his family. His valiant efforts are of no avail against the ravening horde which sweeps down upon the camp site. In a matter of minutes all is over.

That night the faithful dog voices his lonely sorrow to the moon whose cold light touches the still forms strewn like broken dolls on the beach. It is a tragedy which might have been and probably was enacted on the shores of most of our lakes.

The Iroquois launched their blitzkrieg against the Hurons on March 16, 1649 by storming and burning Ste. Ignace on the Sturgeon River. Here perished the Jesuit martyrs whose gallant deaths earned them a place in Canada's history and the courts of heaven.

Before the Iroquois completed their campaign, all Huronia had been put to the torch and sword. Only a remnant of the once proud race escaped to Christian Island in the Georgian Bay.

Unlike the Hurons who perished in the smoldering rubble of their villages, the nomad Algonquins wisely withdrew to the north. Thus did the Iroquois wrest from their enemies the control of all southern Ontario.

For nearly a hundred years they reaped the rich harvests of fur which lined the pockets of the Albany merchants with gold. The smoke of Iroquois cooking fires rose from villages near Toronto, at Rice Lake and on the Otonabee River. At Sturgeon Point the Mohawk tribe settled and their corn grew tall. Records seem to indicate that the Mohawk tribes were more numerous in Ontario than any of the other five nations, although little or nothing is known of their occupation of Haliburton. Possibly they may have had several villages here. Certainly they trapped this area.

Near the middle of the 18th century a new tribe rose to challenge the century of Iroquois domination. Near Sault Ste. Marie this Mississaugas or Snake Tribe, who may have originated in Kentucky, grew strong enough to expand to new territory. Authorities do not agree on their origin but genetically they were related to the Chippewas, the Ottawas and the Algonquins who were their allies.

When Mississauga hunting parties, following the natural waterways south to the Algonquin Park and Haliburton area, they were viciously attacked by the Iroquois. Unlike the pacifist Hurons, they thirsted for revenge and a council held in 1740 resulted in a declaration of war.

At Skull Island in the Georgian Bay the Mississaugas first met and defeated the Mohawks who, fleeing south via the Algonquin Park waterways, found their customary role reversed. Instead of the pursuer, they became the pursued. Through the Haliburton lakes they hastened, fighting delaying actions as they went. While vainly trying to reach the swift waters of the Burnt River which would accelerate their escape, they were forced to fight a bloody battle on Lake Kashagawigamog. Here they were defeated by the pursuing Mississaugas.

Today it is not uncommon for arrowheads and tomahawks to be found on its shores and in the vicinity. A number have been uncovered in the garden of Mr. Percy Bolender which overlooks Grass Lake which flows into Lake Kashagawigamog.

The shores of Drag Lake too, often yield Indian relics. Mr. William Gregory, who celebrated his hundredth birthday this year, says that in the early days of the Haliburton settlement, a walk along the sandy beaches of either Moose or Haliburton Lake often produced flint tools and weapons. He particularly recalls a fine skinning knife which he picked up on Oblong.

In Victoria County Mohawk resistance stiffened. We must remember that Prof. Watson Kirkconnell received most of his information from Mississauga sources which were probably a little biased in their own favor.

Weakened by the continual participation in the British wars of the 18th century, the Iroquois forces in Ontario may have been considerably depleted. The Mississaugas were undoubtedly numerically superior.

Near Cobocok ("Quashqua-be-conk" translated "where the gulls nest") at the Gull River range pits, lots 18 and 19, a Mohawk war party fought to the death. Another band battled at Indian Point in Balsam Lake, while north of Cambridge at Valley Goose Lake, a clever ambush by the Mississaugas resulted in a terrible slaughter of the Mohawks.

Retreating up the Scugog one force made a last dramatic stand at Washburn's Island where they battled in the shallows where the water reached their waists. For years after it was not unusual in a walk along that beach, to pick up a human bone lately washed up by the waves.

The main Iroquois force battled five miles north west of Bobcaygeon, falling back to the Otonabee where, six miles north east of Roaches Point, in a final pitched battle, a thousand Iroquois warriors died bravely before the survivors broke and fled toward Lake Ontario.

Thus was Huronia avenged and a hundred years of Iroquois domination ended.

The triumphant Mississaugas were left in complete command. Although they preferred to hunt their food, some agriculture was practised. When Isaac Hunter in 1855 located on a low tongue of land lying between the two Boskungs, it was on a small clearing upon which the Mississauga Indians had grown a slender crop of grain and vegetables.

When the Matabanick Inn was built on the shore of Boskung, on an old Indian camping site, the owner, Mr. Thomas Archer and his sons, uncovered pieces of broken pottery and other articles which indicate it could have been the midden of a village.

Fifteen Mississauga villages have been located in Victoria County. Near Norland, one of their deer fences of felled trees and brush was discovered by the pioneers. Five miles in length, it was broken only by strategically placed gaps where hunters waited until their beaters drove the deer toward them to be slaughtered wholesale.

Alas for the Mississaugas! Their days too were numbered. The first wedge of the encroaching white men was driven on September 23, 1787 when the Crown purchased 1,000 acres on Toronto Bay from three of their chiefs. It was followed on November 5, 1818, by the sale to the Crown of 2 million acres which included the present counties of Victoria, Peterboro and Haliburton, a total of 57 townships, for £740 annually and other considerations.

Among the six chiefs who negotiated the sale at Port Hope, was an ancestor of Chief Johnson Paudash who aided Prof. Watson Kirkconnell when he wrote his centennial history. Chief Paudash, who died recently, lived to be over 100 years old. Paudash Lake in Haliburton County was named for his family.

By 1860 most of the Indians from Haliburton were settled on reserves set up by the Crown at Rice Lake, Mud Lake, Scugog and the Credit River and at Rama near Orillia. Those who were left, that is,

The white man's vices, bad liquor and disease wrought terrible havoc through the tribes. For a while small parties made annual pilgrimages to their old haunts in Haliburton, but by 1910 the itinerants were a novelty rather than a common occurrence.

When Mr. W. R. Curry of Haliburton was operating a livery service from that village, he particularly remembers an Indian patriarch and his son from Chemong Lake whom he annually drove to Redstone on their way to Dickson's camping ground on Kennisis.

At that time the white population was convinced that there were no fish in Kennisis. The patriarch disagreed. "Lots of good fish with spots on them in Kennisis for white man to eat!" he insisted. This was later proven to be true and today fine catches of trout are taken from that lake which was named for another Indian, Joe Kennisis, who lived with his family on its shores. He used to walk to Haliburton to do his shopping and carry his groceries home on his back. Some of the district's older residents still remember him.

The late Nelson Barnum who settled at the foot of Pine Lake knew him and Mr. Barnum's grandson, Mr. Jack Henderson, recalls a story told by Joe Kennisis.

Somewhere on the shores of Big Kennisis is a deposit of almost pure galena. In the old days when Kennisis' tribe ran short on lead, they used to paddle there to collect the lead which they melted and used to make bullets. When the new dam was built, it is quite possible that the area was flooded. If not, there is a lost lead mine on the shores of Big Kennisis which awaits the lucky prospector.

Mrs. Lila Laking recalls her mother's stories of the Indian family who used to camp on the wooded lot overlooking Head Lake on the corner of what is now Highland and Cedar streets opposite the new telephone building.

Previous to her marriage to Mr. E. P. Hoxie, Alice Morphet Lucas, born in 1857, was the eldest child of Capt. John Lucas, first reeve of Dysart who moved to Haliburton in 1864 to build the first saw mill. At that time the place where the Indians camped was heavily forested with only a trail between the trees leading to the lake. As a child, Alice Lucas loved to find an excuse to travel this trail and observe the Indians in their curious wigwam dwelling.

In the historical sketch of Almsaw, Ingoldsby and Lochlin published in 1928, an account is given of a squaw, claiming to be 110 years old, who told one of the pioneers in 1868 that she remembered helping to plant corn on Puffer's Island around 1778 when she was a girl. Opposite the Ingoldsby church, Puffer's Island in Lake Kashagawigamog is the site of an Indian burial ground and from time to time the graves of the Red men are unearthed there. It is ironical that the whiteman's cemetery at the Ingoldsby church should be so near.

This happens again in Stanhope township. Within a mile of the United church cemetery at Maple Lake, in the sandy land near the river which flows out of Grass Lake, another large Indian burial ground is located. The late George Jones, son of William Henry Jones of Maple Lake recalled his father taking him to witness the interment of the last squaw to be buried there, sometime during the 1870's. Even after the white men arrived the Indians seem to have frequented a popular camp site along the river and west of Grass Lake. The late George Clark often told how they helped when he settled on the farm on the east side of the road, now owned by Fred Griffin of Maple Lake. Without their help his family could not have survived their first winter in Haliburton. Mr. Clark's daughter, Mrs. Thomas Archer, recollects that her father often plowed up human bones while cultivating his fields.

Mr. Lorne Barry, whose farm is situated on the north west side of Grass Lake has in his possession quite a number of weapons and tools of stone which he has plowed up over the years.

Both Mr. Jack Henderson and Mr. Andy Sisson of West Guilford recall picking up arrowheads when Nelson Barnum cultivated the field behind J. M. Prentice shopping centre.

In Harcourt, Mr. G. H. Windsor asserts that there is an Indian cemetery near Benoir's Lake, lot 25, concession 10, where the old Peterson colonization road crosses the north branch of the Madawaska.

Several years ago an archeologist did excavate a site in the neighborhood of Wilberforce which the Indians were known to have frequented. Unfortunately the results of his efforts, which might have proved most enlightening, are not available.

While crossing the point between Big and Little Kennisis, Mr. J. M. Prentice stumbled over a three pound section of rock the coloring of which was so unusual that he took it to the Dept. of Mines at Toronto for analysis. They identified it as a piece of almost pure native copper which, probably originated on the south shore of Lake Superior. The location of the find suggests that it may have been inadvertently dumped from their bark canoes when they were emptied after being filled with water by a high wind. This is the logical route to travel from the Superior region to their villages in southern Ontario where the metal could be hammered into bright disks which were highly prized as ornaments.

The editor, Mr. Feir, states that he once heard of a discovery of Indian relics in the Blairhampton area. If anyone has information about this, or other similar finds, he would appreciate receiving it.

At this date so much of our knowledge of the Indians in Haliburton borders on speculation. It is to be hoped that in the near future a more scientific survey will be made by trained archeologists, whose accurate reports will help to write the missing pages of Haliburton's history.

WEDDING

Roberts - Stillman

St. John's United Church, Campbellford, was decked with ferns, tall standards of pink carnations and deep pink peonies last Saturday when Miss Elizabeth Ann Stillman was escorted to the altar by her father, Raymond Stillman of Seymour West, for her marriage to Ernest John Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roberts of Haliburton.

The Rev. D. M. Smith performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white embossed silk organza over taffeta. It featured a very fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and the scoop neckline was trimmed with pearls and sequins. The very full skirt was enhanced by a bias fold of plain organza pouffed over the hipline and ending in a low bow at the back.

Her hip-length silk illusion veil was caught to a half-crown of seed pearls and she carried a semi-cascade of white and pale pink baby mums and carnations.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Brenda Stillman, wearing a short full-skirted dress of pink silk organza over taffeta with tiny bolero and headdress of pleated nylon the same shade.

Junior bridesmaid, also a sister of the bride, was Miss Karen Stillman, dressed in white organza over taffeta with matching headdress.

The groom's niece as flower girl was Miss Diane Everall, in white nylon with a band of flowers in her hair.

All the attendants carried semi-cascades of pink and white mums.

Roy Roberts assisted his brother as groomsman. Ushers were Ted Stillman, brother of the bride, and Gordon Everall, brother-in-law of the groom.

Mrs. Ward Archer played the wedding music and was accompanist for Miss Iona Sharp who rendered "For You Alone" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Immediately following the ceremony, the guests were received at the farm home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Stillman wore a dress of beige silk organza over taffeta, a beige silk organza hat, beige accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Roberts chose a green printed sheath, white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

A late afternoon dinner and reception followed at Hotel Havelock where Kenneth Dunn, uncle of the bride, acted as toastmaster.

Out-of-town guests attended from Toronto, Oshawa, Peterboro, Haliburton, Bancroft, Hastings and Norwood.

For going away the bride changed to a beige pure silk shantung sheath dress, beige hat and white accessories. Her corsage was pink roses.

After a wedding trip to the U. S., Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will live in Haliburton.

EDITORIAL

A Poor Advertisement

SOME TIME AGO a group of ladies interested in the promotion of the work of Girl Guides purchased the farm of the late Oswald Clement with a view of establishing a summer vacation camp there. On Saturday last the camp was officially opened and those who are behind the project are anticipating enlarging and improving the camp facilities from year to year.

We were sure that everyone in the area would be greatly pleased that this property should be chosen as a site for a camp of this nature. Alas, apparently, we were mistaken.

Preparatory to the opening of the camp this group were fortunate to secure a beautiful sign which would serve as a guidepost for the convenience of visitors. Just previous to the opening, however, some person or persons either made off or destroyed the sign. We hope that those responsible for this malicious act will be apprehended as we cannot imagine anyone being guilty of such an act unless they resent the presence of a girls' camp or are mentally unbalanced.

The Girl Guide association is one of the most creditable organizations in Canada and aside from any business considerations, we should feel a sense of pride that they should choose a camp location here. In the light of this sign incident we feel they will wonder just what sort of people they have chosen as neighbors.

In any event this is mighty poor advertising for this section of the Highlands of Haliburton. ●

CARNARVON

The sympathy of the community is extended to the family of the late Roy Mason, who passed away at the Minden Red Cross hospital last week after an illness of a few days. Since his retirement several years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Mason have spent their summers at Carnarvon and winters in Miami, Fla. He loved gardening and had beautified the grounds of their home, which is adjacent to that of Jas. Chambers Jr. They attended the United church. His many Carnarvon friends will miss this kindly gentleman.

Guests of Mrs. A. Hussey over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Weaver developed by Iron Fireman...revolutionizes oil heating...greatest advance in years!

New oil furnace

Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II oil furnace with instant clean flame. Unequaled for clean comfort, low fuel bills and trouble-free performance

Comfort

With the Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II furnace you use a supersensitive thermostat which operates the furnace with the slightest variation of room temperature. This gives you shorter, more frequent firing periods, with remarkably uniform indoor temperature. No matter how often the furnace starts, the flame instantly burns clean—no smoke, no soot, no fouled combustion chamber, no wasted oil.

Trouble-free operation

Cuts service calls to the vanishing point. No burner adjustment required; no draft troubles; no soot-fouled furnace or carbon clogged nozzle.

Operates without chimney draft

The CUSTOM Mark II furnace provides its own positive induced draft with precision control. No natural chimney draft required.

Cleanliness

With the instant clean flame there are no flecks of soot blowing from your chimney or escaping into your home. Hundreds of tests made with smoke-detecting instruments show a flame that's absolutely clean from the very moment it's turned on.

Down go fuel bills

Owners of Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II furnaces report remarkable fuel savings. Instant clean flame eliminates wasteful smoky warm-up period.

Quiet

The easy-burning globular flame is a pleasant change from the blowtorch roar of the conventional oil burner. Fan has resilient mountings to dampen vibration and is sized for large capacity at low, quiet speeds.

HALIBURTON
ROTARY

The Haliburton Rotary Club held their first meeting of their fiscal year in the basement of the United church on Thursday noon last week.

The new president, Frank Litt, was in the chair and we were proud to have with us the new district governor of District 701, Mr. Dooley Green.

Only five of the club members were absent and over 20 visitors from all parts of Canada and the U.S. were in attendance.

The president welcomed the guests to our meeting and he said that he hoped they would be back with us in the very near future.

He then called on Bob Bishop for a report on the Haliburton Rotary carnival which is to be held on August 2-3. Ron Curry, chairman of the historical branch of the club stated that his committee had been very active and the engine at the high school had been painted just recently and it was drawing many visitors to its location. He pointed out that at practically all hours of the day people are there taking pictures of the engine. Ron also made a trip to Toronto and talked with officials of the CNR. They told him to send down any parts of the engine that needed repairs and they would fix it up and return them.

In closing he stated it is to be hoped that the dedication of the engine will take place just before the parade on Wednesday, August 3. It was also suggested the parade start from the high school this year.

Past president Ben Weese made the suggestion that the boat and motor be taken to Curry Motors Ltd. garage and the Rotary Anns could sell tickets on it.

Nearly 30 members of the club were honored at this meeting with having 100% attendance.
